ROAR STREET JOURNAL

The Friendship Garden

I have a small garden on my balcony.

I look after my garden often as it makes up a part of my home.

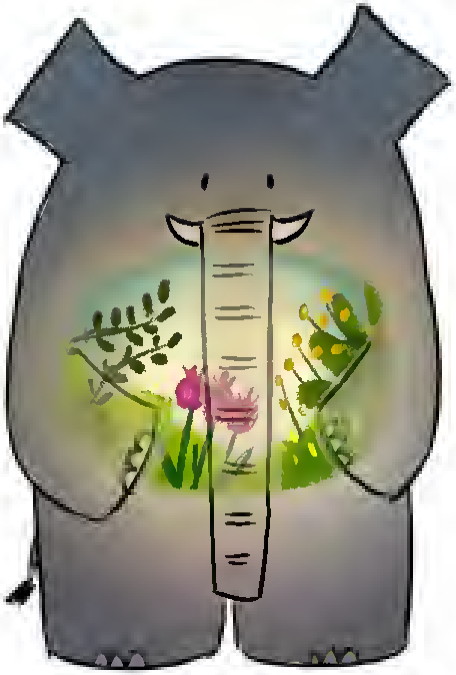
Friendship is like a garden.

Your heart is the garden,

and your friends are the plants.



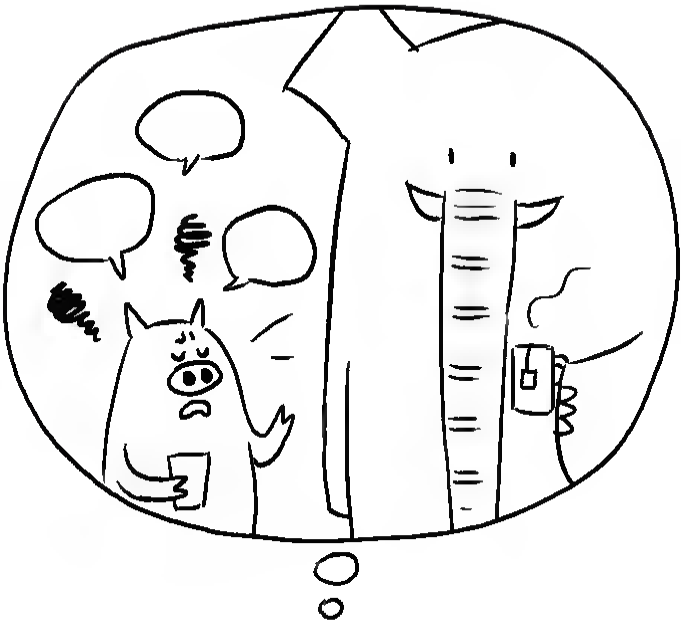
Each plant is different with its own specialties.

Some are bright and colorful.

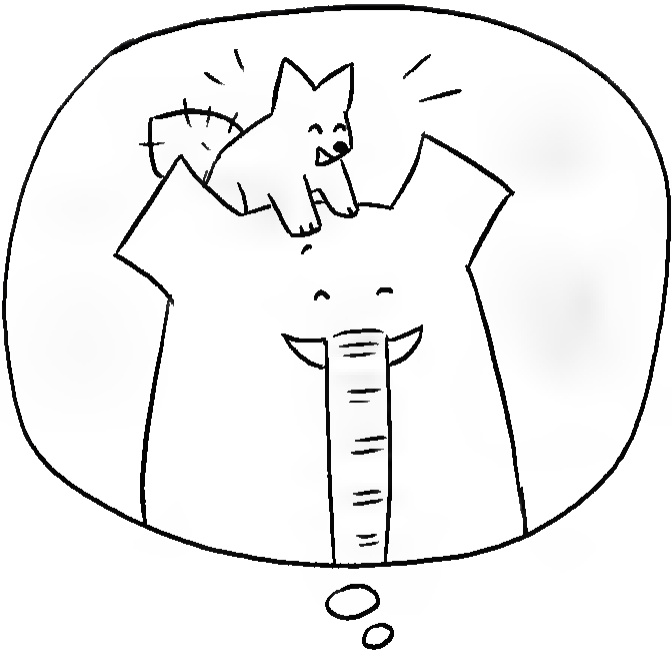
hahaha

Some are tiny and humble.

Some are spiky.

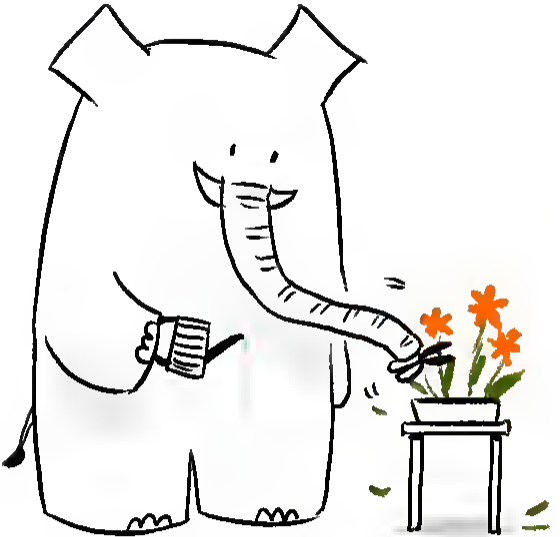


Some provides nice things to you.

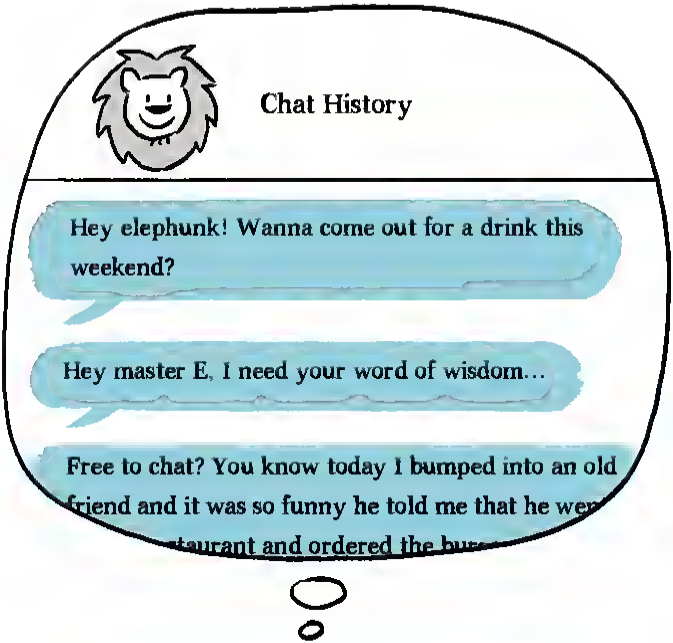


Different types of plants have different needs.

Some requires constant watering and maintenance.



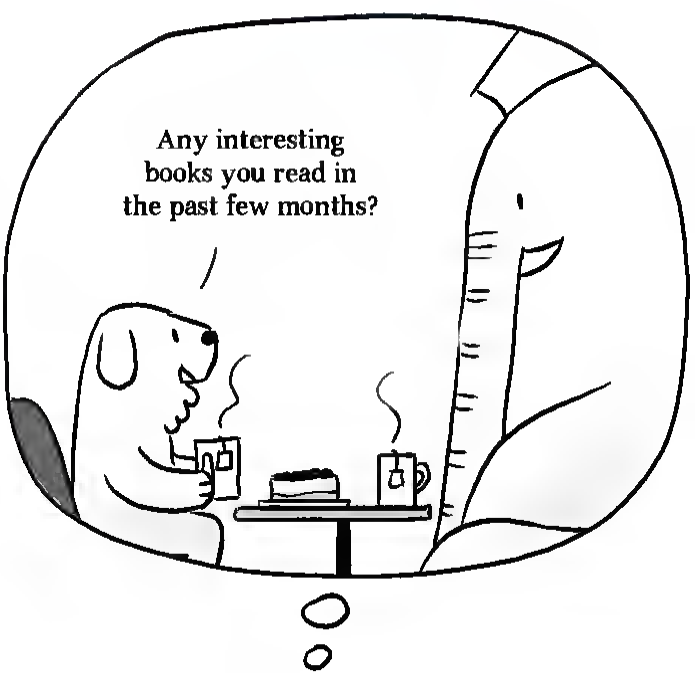
everyday



Chat History
Hey elephunk! Wanna come out for a drink this weekend?
Hey master E, I need your word of wisdom...
Free to chat? You know today I bumped into an old friend and it was so funny he told me that he

Some requires little water and maintenance.

once a month



Everyone keeps their garden differently.

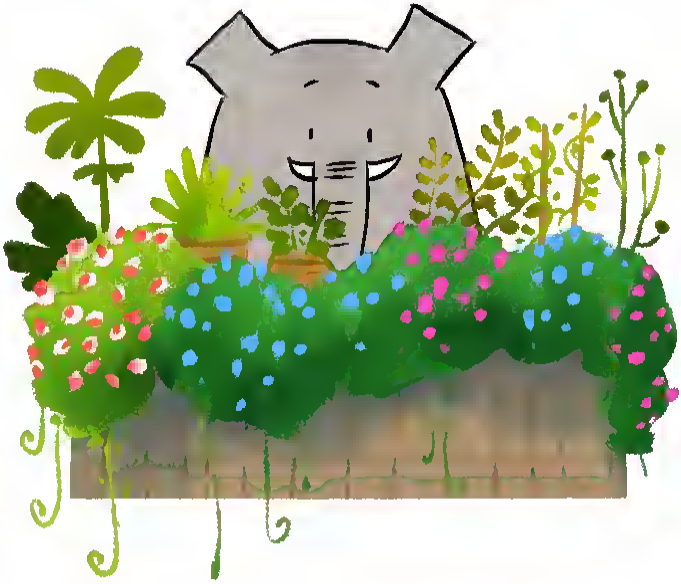
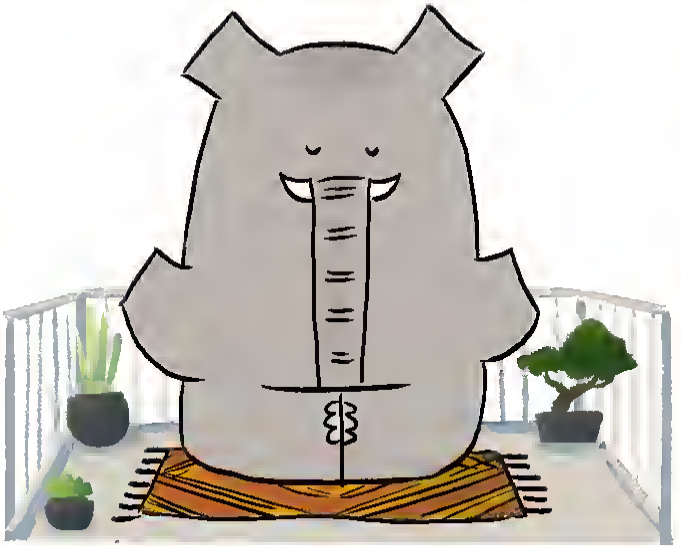
Some likes to have many plants and have lots of time to maintain a big garden.



Some enjoys a small garden with few plants.



There is no right or wrong way to design a garden.

However, as the owner,

you have the responsibility to look after the garden.

Neglect the garden, the plants will wither away.

Treat the plants well, so they may flourish and grow.

Choose your plants wisely and invest in your garden.

Spend some time in it.

My garden makes me happy.

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Congratulations to Ali who graduated from college!

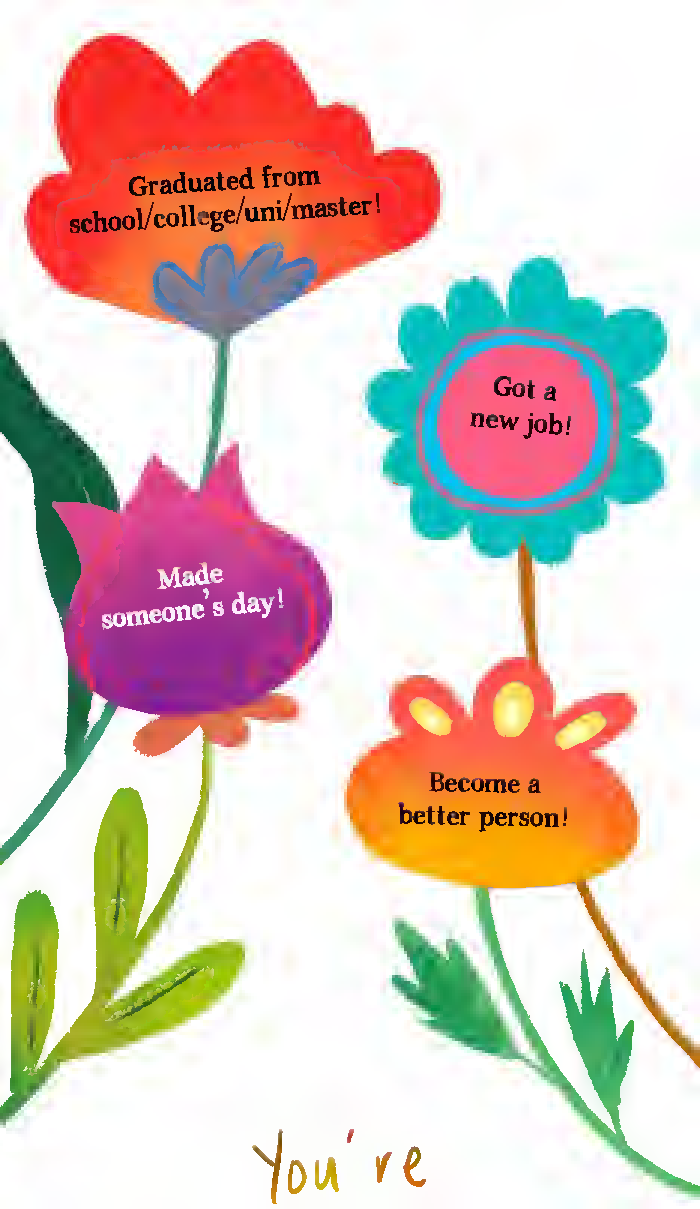
Thanks for being with RSJ all along!

And congratulations to everyone who...



Graduated from school/college/uni/master!
Got a new job!
Made someone's day!
Become a better person!
You're

awesome!!

Bonus! RSJ will have an extra update this friday!
Remember to check back!